The Spirit of the Party; Formation of the Foundation; The Value of the Times; "July 1" Important Speech.

1. Introduction

General Secretary Xi Jinping pointed out in an important speech at the 100th anniversary of the establishment of the Communist Party of China: "One hundred years ago, the pioneers of the Communist Party of China created the Communist Party of China, forming the spirit of adhering to the truth, adhering to their ideals, practicing their original intentions, responsibility, and not afraid of sacrifice, bravely struggle, and the spirit of the party loyalty to the party. The spiritual source of the Communist Party of China." [1] In the background of the "two overall situations" era, how to better play the great party The spiritual nourishment of the spirit of more than 95 million Chinese Communists is an important issue. Therefore, starting from the theoretical connotation, the value of the times, and the promotion of the path of the path, it has an important theoretical and practical value of combing and summarizing the spirit of the great party to build the party.

2. The Theoretical Connotation of the Great Spirit of the Communist Party of China

Although the great spirit of the Communist Party of China has only thirty-two words, it has highly condensed the century-old history and unique spirit of the Communist Party of China. Highly refining and summarizing sexual issues.

2.1. "Adhere to the Truth and Adhere to the Ideal" Summarizes What the Party is Founding

"Adhere to the truth and adhere to the ideal", highly summarizes the follow-up of the Chinese Communist Party's founding of the Marxist scientific theoretical system for a century, and the unremitting efforts to find the correct way out of the Chinese nation. The artillery fire of Western powers openly open China's closed door, and humiliation and blood and tears have become the theme of modern Chinese history. In order to fight for national independence and national rejuvenation, the Chinese people have fought tenaciously with the backward feudal forces at home and abroad. From the Taiping Heavenly Kingdom Movement to the Westernization Movement to the Reform Movement, the peasant class, the landlord class, and the bourgeoisie have appeared one after another. The tragic fate has even exacerbated social confusion, which has led many citizens to make extreme negative or comprehensive westernization of the country's future way. The Chinese nation reached the crossroads. The outbreak of the October Revolution, "help the world also helped China's advanced elements, and use the proletariat's universe view as a tool to observe the country's destiny and reconsider their own problems." [2] Chinese advanced elements with insistence on the truth, determined to adhere to their ideals, and finally established the Communist Party of China that designed to liberate all humanity and realize communism. For a hundred years, the Chinese Communists have always emphasized that "firm ideals and convictions, adhere to the spirit of the Communist Party" [3]. Therefore, it was able to unite the people to achieve the great victory of revolution, construction, and reform.

2.2. "Practicing the Original Intention and Responsibility" Summarizes Why the Establishment of the Party

"Practicing the original intention and responsibility" has summarized the centuries of the Chinese Communist Party from the beginning to the end. "All the efforts, all the struggles, and all sacrifices made by our party in the past century are for the happiness of the people and the rejuvenation of the nation." [4] It is an inexhaustible motivation for the party's advancement, showing the vigorous vitality and powerful combat effectiveness of the century-old party. Why does the Chinese Communist Party stand? Why is it supported and supported by the general public. The Communist Declaration pointed out that the Communists "do not have any interests of the interests of the entire proletariat" [5]. In this regard, in the century-old history of the Communist Party of China, the party has always remembered and practiced firmly. In 1921, a major of the Party passed the "Chinese Communist Party Program". The first was clearly stated: "The bourgeoisie was overturned by the proletarian revolutionary army and rebuilt the country from the labor class until the elimination of class differences." [6] During the Democratic Revolution, the Communist Party of China repeatedly emphasized that it was a proletarian party, "the Communist Party is a proletarian party", "the proletarian pioneer team" [7], "is composed of advanced elements in the proletariat" [7]. After the founding of the People's Republic of China, "serving the people wholeheartedly" has always been the fundamental purpose of the Communist Party of China and implemented in all decisions. During the new period of socialism with Chinese characteristics, the Communist Party of China shoulders the mission and responsibility under the spirit of the great party's spirit of building a great party, and continues to move towards the new banner and goals of socialist modern power in a better life needs of the people.

2.3. "Not Afraid of Sacrifice, Heroic Struggle" Summarizes Where the Party Rely on the Party

"Not afraid of sacrifice and heroic struggle" has summarized the inherent movement of the great achievements of the Communist Party of China today. General Secretary Xi Jinping pointed out: "Don't forget that we are the Communists, we are revolutionaries, don't lose the spirit of the revolution." [4] During the centennial journey of the Communist Party of China, countless Communists sacrificed generously for national independence and people's happiness. After the failure of the Great Revolution, in just one year from 1927 to 1928, there were as many as "more than 26,000 people, close to half of the number of party members at that time" [8]. In today, more than 1,800 party members still sacrifice their lives for the Chinese people to get rid of poverty. In today's peaceful era, "not afraid of sacrifice" not only refers to not fear of sacrificing their lives, but also means willingness to sacrifice their personal interests, including sacrificing the opportunity to reunite with their families, sacrificing the rest and entertainment time that they should have enjoyed; "Heroic struggle" means the courage and fighting spirit of defending people's security and defending national honor. In the new situation, the sustainable development of the cause of socialism with Chinese characteristics will inevitably encounter complex and diverse difficulties and obstacles. The great spirit of establishing a great party spirit of "not afraid of sacrifice and bravery" has promoted the development of the Communist Party of China in the past 100 years. The strength and wisdom of the Communists can calmly cope with all difficulties and continue to fight great struggle.

2.4. The "Loyalty to the Party and Live up to the People" Summarizes Where the Strong Party Depends on

The "loyalty to the party and live up to the people" has highly summarized the fundamental essence of the Communist Party of China. In the course of the party's century, whether at the beginning of the party, the era of the revolutionary war, or during the construction and reform and development period, the Chinese Communists always had a loyal party spirit with blood, clear and firm people's consciousness, and always improved the people to continuously improve the people. The overall well-being is the goal of struggle. "Loyalty to the party" is a promise engraved in the blood engraved by the Communists. The first oath in the party history written by Mao Zedong in 1927 was written by the party history "Sacrifice the individual, strives to revolution, class struggle, obeys the organization, strictly adheres to the secret, and never rebels the party"[9], "Never Bostly" has been retained to this day. At the eight party of the Party held in 1956, Deng Xiaoping wrote "loyalty to the party" as a party member's obligation to the party constitution for the first time. Since then, loyalty to the party has been deeply engraved in the red memory of the Chinese Communists from generation to generation. "Live up to the people", whether the Communist Party of China is fighting against feudal forces, reactionary forces, and imperialist forces, or reconstruction and adjustment of politics, economy, and society in various aspects. purpose. Loyalty to the party and loyalty to the people, the two are essentially consistent. The foothold of the loyalty to the party lies in loyalty to the people and live up to the people. Do not break away from the masses and the pillar power that does not deteriorate.

3. The Contemporary Value of the Great Spirit of the Communist Party of China

3.1. The Spirit of the Great Party to Build the Party Provides Spiritual Support for Continued to Promote the Party's Construction of Great Projects

Over the past century, the Communist Party of China has gone from the danger of crash several times, from suffering to the development of suffering, from failure to victory, and has become the world's largest party today. It is precisely because the Communist Party of China has a strong sense of worry and can be in peace and dares to scrape bone and heal. Being able to move forward on the road to build socialism with Chinese characteristics, and forge ahead towards the lofty ideals of communism. As the red banner of the party's century-old development, the spirit of the great party founding the party has strongly reflected the guidance of the Chinese Communist Party as a worldview that has a scientific pairing world view. Political parties who face their own deficiencies and be brave to self-innovate, and always adhere to the people's positions that do not distinguish between national interests and personal interests.

We must adhere to the truth and adhere to the ideals, promote the party's great project, must establish the correct foundation of ideas, always adhere to the guidance of the truth of Marxist science theory, and realize the great ideal pursuit of communism. Practicing the original intention and responsibility, the promotion of the party's construction should focus on strengthening the theme education of the party members, keeping in mind the theme education of the mission, losing their original intentions, forgetting the mission, the party lost its original color and lost its goals and directions. Not afraid of sacrifice and heroic struggle, and promoting the party's construction cannot be separated from the efforts and efforts of all Communist Party members. All the correct decisions of the party require the implementation of grass-roots organizations. And promotion. Therefore, only all the Communist Party members can effectively promote the party's construction with the spirit of sacrifice spirit that is not afraid of suffering or tired, but not retreat but not cowardly. For the party loyalty and live up to the people, the Communist Party of China has always insisted on standing in the people's position, "without any special interests of its own"[10]. Promoting the party building in the new era must not be separated from the people. The fundamental force of the party's construction comes from the people. The fundamental purpose of the party's construction is to lose the people and lose the foundation of the party. Therefore, it is necessary to attach importance to the spiritual supporting role that the spirit of the great party can build the party's construction of great projects. In the process of promoting the party's great project, we firmly use the spirit of the great party to build the party as the core of ideological, further enhance the party members' awareness, consolidate the party's political foundation, and continuously open up the new glory of the great practice of socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new period.

3.2. The Spirit of the Great Party Building Provides Spiritual Motivation for the Realization of Socialist Modernization and the Great Rejuvenation of the Chinese Nation

The realization of socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation is the theme of the century-old struggle of the Communist Party of China. With the unremitting efforts of the Communist Party of China, in 2020, my country achieved the first century-old struggle goal, fully built a well-off society in the Chinese land, eliminating absolute poverty, but this is far from enough. The road is long, "If a nation wants to stand at the highest peak of science, it cannot have no theoretical thinking for a moment." [11] In the second century-old goal of building a socialist modern power, the guidance and incentive of the great spirit of building a party.

Adhere to the truth, adhere to the ideals, and realize the path of socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. Faced with difficulties and challenges, without the support of Marxist truths and the driving force of pursuit of great ideals, this grand goal will be difficult to achieve. Practicing the original intention and responsibility, adhere to the leadership of the Communist Party of China, continue to struggle to achieve socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, and strive to achieve the best practice of the nation and the happiness of the country, the happiness of the people, and the happiness of the people. And responsibility. Not afraid of sacrifice and heroic struggle, the Chinese nation is by no means smooth sailing, suffering and challenges coexist. The great achievements we have achieved today are that countless Communists are written by their blood spectrum. At the same time, we must also clearly realize that in the new great journey of realizing socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, we will still face unprecedented obstacles under the new situation at home and abroad. In this regard, we can follow the past and achieve new great achievements. For the loyalty of the party and live up to the people, all the achievements of the party are based on the maintenance and fighting of the interests of the people, and originated from the widespread support and support of the people. History and practice have proved that only by loyalty to the party, closely unite around the party, and give full play to the party's strong leadership and governing ability, can there be a leader who can lead the Chinese people and the Chinese nation to victory; Development and active changes, always focusing on the interests of the people, and supporting the support of the people, the party can exert its own political advantages and realize the modernization of socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation. The spirit of the great party building is the source of power to realize socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, carry forward the spirit of the great party, can inspire the people of all ethnic groups of all ethnic groups in the country, to strengthen their ideals and beliefs, and promote the great cause of revival with a more aggressive spirit. A better future of the great cause of socialism.

3.3. The Spirit of the Great Party Building Provides a Spiritual Guidance for Cope with the Unreasonable Changes in the World and Promoting the Construction of a Community of Human Destiny

The judgment of the latest situation of the times is related to the development direction and strategic focus of the party and the country. In this regard, General Secretary Xi Jinping has made the best time to develop the best development period in modern times, and the world has been in a corrected judgment of a centuries-old change. It has advocated building a community of human destiny and promoting friendly exchanges between countries around the world. Xi Jinping has profound internal logic about the conclusion of the world's major changes and the thought of human destiny community. The latter provides the former with scientific guidance, and the former has deeply explained the latter. The spirit of the great founding of the party has condensed the essence of the century-old struggle history of the Communist Party of China. Its strong and profound scientific internal implication corresponds to the great changes in the world's centuries and promoting the building of the community of human destiny.

The spirit of the great party injects spiritual momentum to deal with the unreparable change of the world. Xi Jinping pointed out that the reason why the Communist Party of China can not defeat is the infinite force of daring to fight and dare to win.[1] From the day of the birth of the Communist Party of China, it has grown up in the continuous struggle with difficulties and challenges. Whether facing a strong enemy, being in a dangerous situation, he has always been courageous to fight and firmly believe in victory. In the face of the great change in the world for a century, challenges and difficulties will only increase. Only by deeply understanding the great spirit of building the party who are not afraid of sacrifice and bravely struggle can we respond with a more positive spirit. At the same time, as "the builder of world peace, the contributor to global development, and the maintenance of the international order"[1], we cannot ignore the great spirit of building the party with a century-old value of the Communist Party of China. Crack the revelation value of modern development problems. In the context of vigorously advocating the story of "telling Chinese stories and spreading Chinese voices"[3], expanding the international communication and promotion of the spirit of the great party building, which can show Chinese wisdom, provide Chinese plan, shape the image of China, but also strengthen China and China and the image of China and China. The exchanges and cooperation of countries around the world have promoted the mutual learning of the world's civilization, and promoted the establishment of a community of human destiny.

4. Promotion of the Great Spirit of the Communist Party of China

General Secretary Xi Jinping emphasized: "Always inherit the spirit of the great party building and carry forward!"[1] Looking back at the past, the Communist Party of China finally created a great cause under the guidance of the great party spirit. Looking at the future, centuries are the wind and righteousness, and we must strengthen the promotion of the spirit of the great party, solid ideological foundation, and rebuild the party's brilliant cause.

4.1. Based on Theoretical Construction as the Fundamental, Strengthen Theoretical Armed Forces, and Build the Foundation of Thought

"Theoretically awakened, and politically firmly."[12] The promotion of the spirit of the great party in the new era It is necessary to use theoretical construction as the fundamental, strengthen ideological armed forces including the classic theory of Marxism and the socialist theory with Chinese characteristics, and build a firm foundation from the spirit of the spirit of the great party.

First, we must strengthen the mastery of the classic theoretical knowledge of Marxism. Marx, Engels and other classic Marxist writers use the historical view of materialism and the theory of surplus value to fully reveal the exploitation of capitalism, correctly reveal the historical laws of the development of human society, and propose and develop "two inevitables" and "two must-have No", demonstrated the victory of the proletarian revolution, and human society will go to the development trend of communism. Secondly, it is the masterpiece of the socialist theoretical system with Chinese characteristics. This includes two parts, one is the mastery of Mao Zedong's thoughts, Deng Xiaoping theory, "three representatives" and the emphasis on scientific development. These theories are continuously formed in the practice of the Communist Party of China in the practice of revolution, construction and reform. They have been proven by practice and can effectively guide Chinese development to learn. They need to learn. The second is to pay more attention to strengthening Xi Jinping's thoughts on socialism with Chinese characteristics in the new era. In the new era, the Party Central Committee with Comrade Xi Jinping as the core stood in a new historical direction, correctly examined the two domestic and international overall situations, and made a series of scientific discussions on China's latest development. The learning and mastering of this theory can effectively strengthen our understanding of the party and national conditions, and laid the ideological and theoretical foundation for the promotion of the spirit of the great party.

4.2. Relying on Party History Resources, Focus on a Century-Old Party History, and Make Good Use of Historical Textbooks

Although the spirit is invisible, it can be reflected by dependent on some people or things. Therefore, the effective promotion of the spirit of the great party should not be empty. It must be combined with the great party history of the century, fully rely on the actual resources of the party history, the actual role of the example, and the various red physical resources, and give full play to the lively and interesting textbook of history.

First of all, it is necessary to promote the great spirit of building the party in the study and education of party history. Since the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China, it aims to "firm ideals and convictions, adhere to the spiritual pursuit of the Communist Party"[13] The party history learning education is in full swing. Promoting the normalization of party history learning and education is a long-term important task for building Marxist learning parties. On the occasion of continuously carrying out party history learning and education, it should be fully combined with the spirit of the great party building, so as to use the spirit of party history and use the spirit of party history. Secondly, use outstanding examples or deeds to promote the spirit of the great party. Numerous heroes and glorious deeds have emerged in the century-old party history, all of which reflect the core connotation of the great spirit of building the party. For example, Xia Minghan, who always adheres to the truth and adheres to the ideal, Jiao Yulu, who practiced his original intention and the mission, is not afraid of sacrifice, heroic struggle, Zhou Wenyong, who is loyal to the party, Zhou Wenyong who lives up to the people, etc. These are worthy of our special books, and we are worthy of our big books, and we are worthy of our big books, and we are worthy of our big books. In this process, it attaches importance to its embodiment of the core connotation of the spirit of the great party. Finally, it is fully relying on various types of red physical resources to promote the spirit of the great party. There are a variety of red physical resources, including red relics, red attractions, red books, red film and television, etc. These resources can give the public the immersive feelings, so that they can truly feel the magnificent party history from the heart in the heart. It plays the role of ideological and political education. Xi Jinping also talked: "Every time I go to Jinggangshan, Yan'an, Xibaipo and other revolutionary holy places, it is a spiritual and ideological baptism." [14] It can be seen that red physical resources are of significance for ideological and political education. Therefore, to promote the spirit of the great party, we must make full use of the way of everyone in the new era and to further tap the value of red physical resources.

4.3. Pointing on the Practice of Struggle, Integrating into the Practice of Struggle, and Promoting the Promotion of Spirit

The spiritual formation, development, and action of the spirit of the great party to build the party, which shows the distinctive characteristics of the unrealized characteristics of practice. "The new era is the era of strugglers." [15] Promoting, it is necessary to integrate it into the struggle practice of the new era.

First of all, it is necessary to promote the spirit of the great party in the struggle practice of the Chinese dream. General Secretary Xi Jinping pointed out: "The great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation can never be achieved easily, gongs and drums." [4] The world is undergoing a great change in a century, and the realization of the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation will also be cloth. Full of thorns. Because of this, in this practice, we must give full play to the guidance of the spirit of the great party. In the practice of leading the people of the country to actively participate in the Chinese dream, we fully recognize the infinite power of the spirit of the great party, and then promote the promotion of spirit. Secondly, it is necessary to promote the spirit of the great party in the struggle practice of the Chinese Communist Party's spiritual spectrum. Over the past century, the Communist Party of China has formed the spirituality of the Chinese Communist Party, including the spirit of the great party, including the spirit of the great party. In the party's history and practical practice, the tradition and experience of continuing the spirituality of the Chinese Communist Party has long been formed. Therefore, in this practice, it can promote the spirit of the great party to build the party, and we can truly "talk deep, penetrate, and live" [16].

5. Conclusion

All in all, as the spiritual soul of the Communist Party of China, the spirit of the great foundation of the party is the foundation of the spirit of the Chinese Communist Party. "The different spiritual states presented in different historical stages reflect the spiritual state of the Chinese Communists in different periods". Deeply grasp the high degree of refining and summary of the spirit of the great party spirit of the Communist Party of China, the establishment of the party, why the party rely on the party, and what the strong party rely on the four key issues, and accurately understand the great project of the great project to promote the party's construction. Socialist modernization and the great rejuvenation of the Chinese nation, the unprecedented changes in the world's centuries, and the time to promote the establishment of a community of human destiny. At the same time, in today's complex and changeable world trend, we must take theoretical construction as the fundamental, rely on party history resources, and focus on promoting the spirit of promoting the spirit of the great party, and better play the spirit of the great spirit of building a great party spirit. Function, take the second century-old exam.
